

Please leave general aviation alone and start investigating large truck rental services. As history in OK City proves a rental truck can kill when loaded with explosives. I make my living as a flight instructor and fly with many foreign student, all of which were allowed into the USA by INS, do not expect me to determine who is a good guy or a potential terrorist. In an election year, don't kill my job because you don't understand the benefits that 99.999% of the foreign students bring into our country. What about those foreign students majoring in chemistry, can't they produce a nuclear bomb and rent a large truck with the bomb safely inside, apparently you don't care so much about that possibility.

Leave my profession alone, you already request too much of us in lost revenue with the TFR's now.
